R25 minibus taxi crash claim life of a passenger

The Executive Mayor of Sekhukhune District Municipality (SDM), Cllr Minah Bahula, said she is deeply saddened by the tragic taxi accident that occurred along the R25 Road near Dennilton on Thursday 26 September 2024. The Toyota Quantum minibus taxi was ferrying passengers traveling from Benoni to Groblersdal and unfortunately, one person has sadly passed away and several others were injured and hospitalised. The deceased is reportedly from Dihlabaneng Village around the Schoornoord area. The injured passengers were treated at Philadelphia Hospital and were discharged. Initial reports indicated that several passengers aboard the taxi are believed to be from the Monsterlus and Jane Furse areas. Apparently, the taxi overturned after experiencing a tyre burst. "Our hearts go out to the families and loved ones affected by this devastating accident. On behalf of the Sekhukhune District Council, and the entire community, we wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the families. We also send our thoughts and prayers to those injured, and we hope for their swift recovery," said the executive mayor. Bahula said the district municipality is currently working to establish further details about the accident and will continue efforts to ascertain the identities of the families involved. Elias Motsoaledi Local Municipality Councillor, Herbert Radingwana, who is also a taxi owner at Groblersdal Taxi Association (GTA), said they were shattered by the sad news. "We have a good relationship with the taxi association in Benoni. The taxi that was involved in the accident was the first one to leave Benoni taxi rank around 8:30 in the morning transporting passengers to their various destinations in Sekhukhune," explained Radingwana. He said after receiving the news, he had to rush to the accident scene with other taxi owners to assist the victims. "The unfortunate part is that one of the passengers had already died when we arrive at the scene," he said. Radingwana added that GTA make sure that when the taxi involved in an accident, they immediately attend the accident scene and make sure the victims are rushed to hospital and thereafter, they later transport them back home after they are discharged. "During the week we making home visits to check if they need to be taken for treatment at hospital so that we transport them for treatment and check-up," he said. Radingwana said the association will investigate the main cause of the accident to prevent similar incidents to occur in the future.

Glencore Ferroalloys Champion Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) with Community Awareness Day in Steelpoort

September 2024 – Glencore Ferroalloys hosted its first Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) Community Awareness Day at the Glencore Local Economic Development Hub in Steelpoort, Limpopo. The event aimed to showcase the latest in digital transformation and innovation, offering the local community a unique opportunity to engage with cutting edge technologies and skill development programmes.

The concept for the 4IR Community Awareness Day emerged from Glencore's recognition of the evolving landscape of industry and technology. As the global economy increasingly relies on digital technologies, the need to prepare local communities for this shift became clear. This initiative aims to ensure that local communities are not only aware of but also equipped to thrive in a world where technology plays a pivotal role.

The event featured a comprehensive exhibition that highlighted the diverse training and educational opportunities available, spotlighting the efforts of various organisations dedicated to fostering digital transformation. The exhibition showcased contributions from Forge Academy & Labs, Kayise IT, Lubanzi Automation Academy, Trailblazer Automation Hub, Phumelela Consulting, CXI-Africa, Maphuki of Phokeng, Regoapele Capital, Eastern Chrome Mines, Lion Smelter, and Eastern Limb Training Centre. Attendees had the opportunity to engage with cutting edge technologies and skills, including:

- Digital marketing
- Robotics
- Virtual and augmented reality
- 3D printing
- Virtual Reality (VR)
- Drones
- Software development
- Cellphone and laptop repair

André Wiesner Group Human Resource Development at Glencore Ferroalloys emphasised the importance of introducing local communities to 4IR skills, stating, "It is crucial for our local communities to be exposed to the technologies and skills of 4IR. As our mines and smelters evolve, they will not be around forever. However, the skills we impart today will endure for generations to come. Equipping our community with these advanced skills ensures that they are prepared to thrive in an ever-changing, technology-driven world. This initiative is about more than just current industry needs—it's about preparing future generations for success."

The exhibitions not only highlighted these technologies but also provided hands-on experiences and interactive demonstrations. Participants gained insight into how these innovations can be leveraged to create new career opportunities and drive future growth.

"This initiative represents a significant step in aligning educational opportunities with today's job market demands. Introducing our community to 4IR technologies and skills not only improves their current job prospects but also equips them with essential knowledge needed to advance," said Madikgake Masha, Ngwaabe Circuit Manager from the Department of Education.

In addition to Glencore's portable skills programme, which underscores traditional skills, the exhibition also showcased how the mining sector is evolving and advancing the adaptability and safety for its employees.

Vorster Maloka, CSI Manager for Eastern Limb Operation, added that this first inaugural community day reflects the strong interest from community members. Looking ahead, Glencore plans to collaborate not only with its Western Limb Operation but also with other surrounding mines to expand its outreach and enhance its impact within the community.

The Fourth Industrial Revolution Community Awareness Day stands as a testament to Glencore's commitment to supporting local development and fostering a future-ready workforce.

Sports, Arts and Culture Department embroiled in tender irregularities

The Democratic Alliance (DA) in Limpopo has welcomed the recent announcement of a Special Investigating Unit (SIU) investigation into the affairs of the Limpopo Department of Sports, Arts and Culture. The investigation is set to concentrate on alleged procurement of, or the contracting for security services by the department that was not fair, competitive, transparent, equitable or cost effective and contrary to applicable legislation, policies circulars or instructions and any related unauthorised, irregular, or fruitless and wasteful expenditure incurred by the department. The SIU will also investigate any alleged maladministration and any losses suffered by the department in relation to the irregular appointment of staff in 5 districts, Sekhukhune, Waterberg, Vhembe, Capricorn and Mopani Districts respectively. The investigation will be conducted in terms of circular 7 of 2016, in the position of Assistant Director Assets Management, payments not due or owing or payments made by the department to entities for services not rendered, the 2016/2017 financial year Mapungubwe Arts, Culture and Heritage Festival and any unlawful or improper conduct by employees of the department and suppliers or service providers. The proclamation covers allegations of maladministration, unlawful and improper conduct that occurred between 1 January 2011 and 4 October 2024, as well as any related activities before 1 January 2011 and after the date of the proclamation that is relevant to the matters under investigation. Advocate Franco Marx, DA Limpopo Spokesperson on Sport, Arts and Culture, said this investigation will reveal long awaited information about a period where there had been suspicion and allegations of corrupt activities in the department. "In fact, in 2017, a draft report of Limpopo's Standing Committee on Public Accounts (SCOPA) had recommended that the Provincial Treasury must appoint a forensic investigation into all income and expenditure into the 2017 Mapungubwe Arts Festival," he said. Marx indicated that the party will ensure that all corruption and maladministration are dealt with as soon as possible, and the culprits must be brought to justice. "The people of Limpopo deserve clean governance and ethical leadership," he said.

Leeuwnfontein Pickers rewards top performing pupils with stationery vouchers

Leeuwnfontein Pickers has on Tuesday 1 October donated 20 stationery vouchers to top achieving pupils at Motheong Primary School in Leeuwnfontein Township. The generous donations to the value of R150-00, were handed over to top 5 learners who performed well in the second term. Leeuwnfontein Pickers was established last year with the aim of forming an alliance with farmers around Marble Hall and Groblersdal, to create an easy access to employment for our youth around Mogan-yaka and neighbouring communities. The donation was made by Kabelo Steven Tjale and Lawrence Mohlala who are both directors of Leeuwnfontein Pickers Company. Following its inception, the company managed to secure seasonal farming employment to 290 pickers and 14 supervisors during picking season. During the donation hand-over, Tjale has applauded local farmers for their initiative in fighting the high rate of unemployment in the local communities. "I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Hendrick Schoeman and Schoeman Boerdery for giving us the platform to reduce unemployment among our youth. This initiative created a source of income for our community and it benefited our youth. We wish farmers around Marble Hall and Groblersdal could follow Schoeman Boerdery and give opportunities to our local youth instead of hiring illegal foreigners. I am pleased to announce that Schoeman Boerdery doesn't employ foreign nationals on all their farms around South Africa and we appreciate their efforts in prioritizing locals," explained Tjale. Motheong Primary School Principal, Thabo Maburuse, has described the donation as the gesture that was never seen by the school in the past 33 years. "I have been here, this is the most generous thing to happen out of the blue and it is truly a great inspiration to our learners especially on their first day of the last term of the calendar. We truly appreciate their donation and we hope other businesses could learn from them and give the children inspiration," he said. Maburuse applauded Schoeman Boerdery for their contribution to uplift the community and local schools. Lawrence Mohlala, who is Leeuwnfontein Pickers Operational Director, has encouraged other companies to follow suit and contribute towards shaping the future of younger generation in the communities. "We would like to encourage other businesses around Mogan-yaka to look at most private schools, they will understand why it is important to support the community. You can't expect change without action but, I believe the little contribution we make could inspire the whole community," he said.

SDM exposes tender scammers targeting potential service providers

The Sekhukhune District Municipality (SDM) has issued an urgent alert to all potential service providers about a fraudulent tender scam currently circulating. According to the district municipality, the scam involves individuals falsely claiming to be the district's Supply Chain Manager, Mr Voster Masemola, and attempting to solicit money in exchange for securing tenders. Lemson Moropjane, SDM Spokesperson, said the district municipality conducts all its business in strict compliance with Supply Chain Management policies and relevant legislation. "Under no circumstances will the municipality or its officials ever request payment in exchange for tender opportunities. We urge all service providers and stakeholders to remain vigilant and report any suspicious activity to the municipality. Protect yourself from falling victim to this scam by verifying all tender-related information through official municipality channels," he said. Moropjane encouraged potential service providers who might fall prey of these fraudulent scammers to immediately report the scammers on this number 063 135 7747. Earlier this year, the district municipality has experienced the same problem where scammers targeted potential service providers involving an individual named Isaak Kgwale, with number 060 875 9786, who is falsely claiming to be the SDM Municipal Manager, Meshack Kgwale. The said Isaak Kgwale has been reported to request money or financial assistance from service providers in exchange for awarding tenders. During that time, the municipality advised that those actions were fraudulent and not sanctioned by the municipality. The municipality said it does not solicit any form of payment or financial assistance from service providers for the awarding of tenders and all tender processes are conducted in a transparent and fair manner, in accordance with our official procurement procedures.

Upon her moving closer, the suspect grabbed her, threatened to kill her and forced her into his vehicle and drove away with her," explained Ledwaba. He added that the victim's family noticed that she was not returning home and they reported the incident to the police, as there is an active protection order against the suspect. "The police made follow-up and the victim was located the following day on Monday 23 September 2024 at around 00:30 in Luckau Village at the suspect's residence. The victim reported that the suspect also raped her. The police opened cases of kidnapping and rape. The suspect was then arrested," Ledwaba said. He said the suspect will appear before the Nebo Magistrate's Court facing charges of kidnapping and rape and police investigations are continuing.

Hundreds of people from different parts of Sekhukhune attended the event that was marked with diverse cultural heritage performers, commemorated under the theme: "Celebrating the lives of heroes and heroines who laid down their lives for freedom". Delivering a keynote address, SDM Executive Mayor, Cllr Minah Bahula, has reminded those in attendance of the rich cultural diversity in Sekhukhune, emphasizing that every corner of the district has a heritage story to tell. Bahula highlighted significant heritage sites, including the Tšate Heritage, Manche Masemola Graveyard, Lenao la Modimo and Ledingwe Cultural Village, stating that they are central to the district's cultural identity and should be celebrated and preserved. ## Water reservoir getting an art-upgrade Moshopiadi Nchabeleng, one of our art learners, participated in a competition hosted by Thaba Eco Hotel/Park to help transform their water reservoir as part of World Environmental Day. Moshopiadi won this competition and joined Thaba Eco Hotel and Spa for three days during this week to paint their water reservoir!

The idea of the art mural started when Travis (Thaba Eco Park Environmental Manager) identified an opportunity to turn an old concrete water reservoir tank, at the eco park, into an attractive feature for visitors to enjoy. This was achieved through the launch of an art mural competition. Youth were encouraged to enter and, in so doing, showcase their artistic talents.

During this period, Ms Mareli De Klerk, our art teacher, happened to join Travis on a guided eco drive where she heard about this competition and informed her learners. According to Travis, Thaba received many amazing art mural design entries, from all over, but Moshopiadi's design stood out. At an early age, Moshopiadi realized she had a true artistic gift. With the necessary encouragement from her mother, Lillian, along with Mrs De Klerk, they encouraged Moshopiadi to express herself through different art mediums.

This was her first attempt at an art mural on this scale. As a result, a classmate, Ankia, as well as Moshopiadi's mother and Ms Hannelie Blok, were invited to join Thaba Eco Hotel and Spa for three days as part of her prize package. On the first day, Moshopiadi and her team arrived and were warmly welcomed by Travis and the front office staff. After dinner, they settled in and got a good night's rest in preparation for the day ahead. The second day is where the hard work started.

After breakfast, Travis escorted Moshopiadi and her team down to the site. All the paints and brushes that were used were graciously sponsored by Versus Paint and Hamilton's, respectively. To ensure Moshopiadi and her team had everything they needed, ladders, umbrellas and other materials were set up at the site. In addition, a tea/coffee station (including snacks and cold drinks) was laid out. Moshopiadi and Ankia had set good targets to complete, section by section, of the mural, leaving ample time for touch-ups. They divided their days into two sessions (morning and afternoon) and were driven back to the hotel to enjoy a complimentary meal at Kraal Restaurant after every session. On the third day, the art team continued powering on with enthusiasm and energy to be finished by the end of the day, and after a well-deserved night's sleep, Moshopiadi and her team got to sleep in a bit and eased into day 4. After breakfast, they were taken to the site to enjoy and reflect on the magic they had created, before they departed home.

In the message we have received, Thaba Eco Hotel stated that they would like to humbly thank Moshopiadi and her team for their outstanding work and that they see great things in Moshopiadi and Ankia's art future, wishing them all the success they deserve.
