Concerns mounting against neglected sporting facilities in Sekhukhune

The Apel Recreation Park is one of the abandoned sports facilities in Fetakgomo Tubatse Local Municipality.

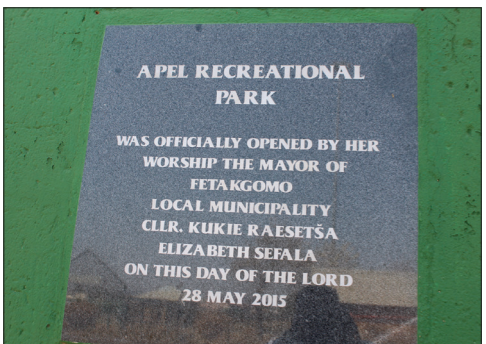

SEKHUKHUNE

Sekhukhune Residence Forum stated that they are gravely concerned that Sekhukhune District Municipality (SDM) is plagued by abandoned and incomplete sports and recreational facilities, leaving local communities without access to essential infrastructure for development and recreation.

According to the forum, several projects, including the Tubatse Stadium and Driekop Sports Complex, have been marred by delays, poor maintenance, and allegations of mismanagement.

Other affected facilities include Ga-Nchabeleng Sports Facility, Ga-Masemola Sports Facility, Apel Sports Facility, Leeuwfontein Sports Facility and Mamphokgo Sports Facility.

Sekhukhune Residence Forum Chairperson, Makalakatje Phasha, said the abandonment of these facilities can be attributed to several factors, including budget misallocation and mismanagement of funds and lack of maintenance, leading to deterioration of completed projects.

“Other contributing factors include contractor failures, resulting in stalled projects due to payment disputes or incompetence. The consequences of these abandoned facilities are far-reaching, resulting in lost opportunities for youth sports development, increased crime and vandalism in abandoned structures and wasted resources, with taxpayer money failing to benefit the community,” explained Phasha.

He indicated that government must prioritize the completion and maintenance of these facilities to provide its communities with safe and functional spaces for recreation and development.

The Apel Recreation Park is among sports facilities that are in a state of dilapidation after it was neglected by the government.

Jane Furse Agri-Park in jeopardy

Sekhukhune Residence Forum demand actions to be taken to improve the Jane Furse Agri-Park for provision of food security and community support.

JANE FURSE
The Jane Furse Agri-Park, located in Makhuduthamaga Local Municipality (MLM), is part of a government-led agricultural development project, aimed at boosting small-scale farming, agribusiness, and job creation.

However, according to Sekhukhune Residence Forum, despite its potential, the Jane Furse Agri-Park has faced several challenges, including delays and underutilization of infrastructure, corruption and mismanagement allegations, and market access struggles for small farmers.

"These issues have hindered the project's progress and effectiveness because as part of South Africa's broader Agri-Park Programme, the project seeks to integrate rural farmers into commercial value chains," said Sekhukhune Residence Forum Chairperson, Makalakatje Phasha.

The project is funded by the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development (DALRRD), with additional financing from the National Treasury's Jobs Fund and the Industrial Development Corporation (IDC). The Limpopo Department of Agriculture & Rural Development (LDARD) is responsible for implementing the project.

Phasha said it is a pity because the Jane Furse Agri-Park is designed to support emerging black farmers, particularly youth, women, and cooperatives.

"The project provides shared infrastructure, including cold storage and pack houses, abattoir and livestock handling facilities, processing plants, and training and incubation centres for farmers. The park focuses on various crops and agricultural activities, such as citrus farming, vegetables, grains, and livestock," he said.

Phasha indicated that the success of the Jane Furse Agri-Park depends on addressing these challenges and ensuring that the project benefits the local farming community.

"With proper management and support, the park has the potential to make a significant impact on the local economy and contribute to the growth of small-scale farming in the region," he said.

MEC Mathye meets SANTACO and NTA over taxi patroller incidents

Limpopo MEC for Transport and Community Safety, Violet Mathye, recently met with SANTACO and NTA following incidents involving individuals posing as taxi patrollers.

SEKHUKHUNE

Following the recent surge of incidents involving individuals allegedly posing as taxi patrollers, Limpopo MEC for Transport and Community Safety, Violet Mathye, called a meeting with South African National Taxi Council (SANTACO) and the National Taxi Alliance (NTA) on 25 April.

Senior officials of the South African Police Service (SAPS) Taxi Violence Unit also formed part of the high-level meeting.

The taxi associations strongly condemned and distanced themselves from the reported acts of vandalism, intimidation and the extortion of private citizens under the guise of enforcement.

They reaffirmed their commitment to lawful conduct and pledged to engage with their recognised patrollers, urging them to refrain from any criminal activities.

Tidimalo Chuene, departmental spokesperson, stated that in response, the Department of Transport and Community Safety will launch a robust educational awareness campaign aimed at discouraging hitchhiking and promoting the use of formal, legal public transport services.

"To further support this initiative, municipalities across the province will be encouraged to erect 'No Hitchhiking' signage at known hotspots. Concurrently, the department will intensify law enforcement operations targeting illegal modes of transport, while SAPS will play a critical role in clamping down on those who break the law," stated Chuene.

MEC Mathye said, "The responsibility of enforcing the law lies with our mandated agencies – no one else. We urge taxi patrollers to cease any unlawful activities and advise members of the public to avoid hitchhiking due to the associated safety risks and potential criminal elements. I have instructed the Head of Department, Mr. Stephen Matjena, to establish a dedicated task team comprising of representatives from various law enforcement agencies to deal decisively with acts of extortion."

Mayor Mahlase urges for prioritisation of revenue sources

JANE FURSE - To review Makhuduthamaga Local Municipality (MLM)'s performance, which showed significant overall achievement on planned projects for the third quarter, the institution convened an Executive Committee Lekgotla Performance Review session at its council chamber in Jane Furse last Tuesday.

The session heard that during the third quarter of the 2024/2025 financial period, the municipality achieved 87 of the 90 planned targets, resulting in a 97% performance.

With the spatial rational standing at 100%, basic service delivery at 96%, local economic development at 100%, financial management and viability at 94%, good governance and public participation at 100% and institutional development and transformation at 94%, the institution seems to be moving in the right direction towards improved services for the masses.

Presenting the quarterly overview, Municipal Manager, Ronald Moganedi, highlighted a milestone in critical service delivery programmes. Moganedi mentioned the department of transport's activation of the municipality's Registering Authority (RA) at the head office as one of those milestones.

The efforts of the municipality's community services department were complimented during the EXCO Lekgotla for the significant achievement of activation of the RA.

The EXCO noted that availability of the RA services to the public, highlighting the possibility for revenue growth through motor vehicle and motorcycle registration and licensing.

Thomas Mashabela, MLM

Makhuduthamaga Local Municipality Mayor, Merah Mahlase during the third quarter performance Review Lekgotla last Tuesday in Jane Furse at the council chamber spokesperson, said the session also heard that the municipality's infrastructure development department is making major progress on the Phase 2 of the Kome Access Road.

"The municipality will receive an additional R25 million for effective execution and spending on Municipal Infrastructure Grant (MIG) projects.

Mayor Merah Mahlase urged the management to prioritise more effort on improving revenue sources, stating, "We are making good progress towards service delivery and performance management targets, and our communities expect more and more impactful development and we will be able to fulfil their expectations once we improve our revenue collection and distribute services promptly."

Suspects sought following alleged rape of teenager

APEL - The South African Police Service (SAPS) in Limpopo is calling on members of the public to provide information which can lead to the arrest of four unknown suspects following the alleged rape of a teenage girl in the Apel policing area on 23 April. The Family Violence, Child Protection and Sexual Offences (FCS) Unit in Lebowa kgomo is investigating the alleged rape incident involving a 16 year-old girl. Four unknown suspects allegedly kidnapped and rape the minor victim in the area under Sekhukhune district that day at about 20:00. Colonel Malesela Ledwaba, Limpopo Provincial Police spokesperson, said preliminary investigations revealed that the victim was on her way from a local shop when a white Toyota Quantum with unknown registration, carrying four occupants, stopped next to her.

"Two suspects alighted and forced her into the vehicle. The suspects drove to nearby bushes where they took turns raping her. The suspects then drove back and dropped her near the area where they had picked her up before fleeing the scene," explained Ledwaba.

Ledwaba informed that the police have opened a case of kidnapping and four counts of rape. "The suspects remain unidentified at this stage," added Ledwaba.

Police are appealing to members of the community with valuable information that can assist in investigations to come forward. Anyone with information can contact Captain Kgerudi Moela of Lebowa kgomo FCS Unit on 082 565 8260, the nearest police station, the crime stop number 08600 10111 or use the MySAPSAPP.
